

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION IN SPORT: THE LATEST DEVELOPMENT ON SPORTS LAW

Milan, 8-9 June 2018

Introduction

Sports Law has become an established field of legal scholarship and practice.

On this basis the Sports Law and Policy Centre and the Centro Scientifico di Diritto dello Sport organize a two-days conference in order to provide an in-depth analysis of the latest development in such a fascinating and complex field.

The Programme in International Sports Law is English taught and it is designed for qualified lawyers and for those who already work for Sports Associations, Leagues and Clubs.

In this perspective, some among the leading arbitrators and international sports lawyers will examine the current legal provisions as adopted by the Sports Associations as well as the latest case law delivered by the highest sports arbitration bodies and international ordinary tribunals.

Thanks to its practical approach the Programme will offer the opportunity to:

- Acquire a deep insight and understanding of crucial sports law issues;
- Analyse the most important case law through timely debates and workshops with experienced lawyers and arbitrators;
- Keep up to date with the latest cases and their practical impact on the sports stakeholders;
- Be in contact with the leading experts in the field, and
- Create and improve your own international network.
