What we learned from the pandemic: a view from Corporate Counsel

General Counsel will reflect on their experience with, and corporate lessons learnt from, Covid-19, including making rapid decisions, strategic pivots and operational changes under stress and uncertainty. The panel of experts will highlight some of the key lessons in the following three main categories: corporate decision-making and leadership, risk management, and managing a remote team, in order to help general counsels navigate what will be a persistent disruption of the years ahead.

Keynote Speaker

Professor Giorgio Sacerdoti

Giorgio Sacerdoti, former President of the World Trade Organisation's (WTO) Appellate Body, University Professor, Attorney at Law, and Arbitrator will share his great experiences and provide insights into the current initiatives on international trade and commerce – specifically those within the WTO context - aiming to regulate and facilitate cross border digital commerce.

1000 – 1130

Supply chain changes and resiliency in the 'post-Covid' environment and taxation of digital services.

Businesses that have moved in a timely manner to digitise their supply chain, (including customs and tax procedures, and custom valuation and transfer pricing) and have become more efficient and developed a new degree of resiliency to create a competitive advantage. This session will explore the consequences of this digitalisation on the nature and speed of international supply chains, tax, trade, and customs, and will pose interesting questions: how does e-commerce affect the processes of product development, manufacturing, distribution, and the taxes and customs outcome? Does it increase their resiliency? Has the recent pandemic accelerated the digitisation of changes to supply chains and has it impacted the 'reshoring' of functions from abroad?

This panel will further discuss, during Covid-19 times:

Thursday continued

- How e-commerce has affected the approaches to tax, trade laws and customs
- The impact on outsourcing
- What we can expect in the future and the key legal issues arising therefrom.

1145 – 1315

Digitisation of goods and services: the legal framework for electronic sales, product liability and digital technology.

The digitisation of goods, services and processes requires stakeholders to be aware of the changing legal framework. There is an increasing spread of goods and services exploiting digital technology, artificial intelligence, and robotics. As a result, manufacturers and distributors of such technological products must be able to ensure consumers' safety and be aware that the legal system, in terms of product liability, is constantly evolving.

Fashion and retail from difficult to even more complicated times: industry challenges ahead

Dramatic changes are already underway in the fashion and retail industries. However, in recent years challenges such as adapting to fast evolving consumer behaviour, converting to fast fashion, and winning the battle on digital have emerged. In this session questions will be addressed, including: how has the Covid-19 pandemic accelerated these phenomena and/or changed the course of these industries? Is the change for good or temporary? What hurdles are brands facing currently, and how does legal advice need to adapt to provide the required support? Speakers from the industry and practicing attorneys will bring their experiences to the table.

The audience will be divided into eight discussion groups for this 'roundtable' session format to address the following relevant sub-topics:

1. The application of food safety controls when departing from the traditional supply chain
2. How to enhance the contractual strength of suppliers when dealing with big online service providers
3. Is the food and beverage online supply chain shorter or longer? What are the pros and cons?
4. Can the new reality of food and beverage e-commerce contribute to a greener world?
5. Will the parcelisation of food deliveries reduce food waste?
6. Who is the new consumer of food and beverage e-commerce? How do we protect them?
7. What are the differences between keyword ranking and eye-level physical market shelves in terms of the visibility of food products? How do we reconcile manufacturers, distributors, and consumers interests altogether?
8. Has the pandemic brought more trust in the decision-making process when dealing with food than it has in the past? Has the pandemic revolutionised the concept of trust in international commerce?

In any case, neither the organisers nor any of their officers, employees, agents, members or representatives shall be liable for any loss, liability, damage or expense suffered or incurred by any person, nor will they return any money paid to them in connection with the conference unless they are satisfied not only that the money in question remains under their control but also that the person who paid it has been unfairly prejudiced (as to which, decision shall be in their sole and unfettered discretion and, when announced, final and conclusive).

If any deductions or withholdings are required by law to be made from any fees payable to us by you under the terms contained in this 'Information' section you shall pay such sum as will, after the deduction or withholding has been made, leave us with the same amount as we would have been entitled to receive in the absence of any such requirement to make a deduction or withholding.

If we obtain the benefit of any tax credit or other relief by reference to any such deductions or withholdings, then we shall repay to you such amount as, after such repayment has been made, will leave us in no worse position than we would have been had no such deductions or withholdings been required.

Conference sell-outs

The IBA places its conferences in venues of a suitable size for each event; however, there are times when our conferences may sell out. Should this happen, prospective delegates will be informed and a waiting list will operate. The waiting list will function on a 'first come, first served' basis, subject to receiving registered delegate cancellations. The waiting list for a conference will close once it has reached ten per cent of the conference venue capacity, as it is very unlikely a place will become available. The IBA will not be liable for any travel or accommodation expenses incurred by an individual who travels to a conference without a confirmed place at the event.

Cancellation of registration or social functions

If cancellation is received in writing at the IBA office by Friday 5 November, fees will be refunded less a 25 per cent administration charge. Refunds will be made minus any monies owed to the IBA.

We regret that no refunds can be made after this date. Registrations or social function bookings received after Friday 5 November will not be eligible for any refund of fees. Please note that the IBA will however offer a full refund if you are required to cancel your registration due to Covid related reasons; we will require written confirmation of your cancellation by the end of business on the first day of the conference.

Should you have difficulties in obtaining your visa and are not able to attend the Conference this cancellation policy will still apply.

Upon submission of your completed Conference registration form to the IBA you are considered 'registered' pending payment. Please note that the cancellation terms and conditions as indicated will apply as soon as your registration is received.

Provided you have cancelled your registration to attend an IBA Conference in accordance with the terms of the 'cancellation of registration' clause included in the 'Information' section of the relevant Conference programme, you must then confirm to us in writing at the IBA office as soon as possible, but in no event later than one year (12 calendar months) from the date of any such Conference, all necessary details to enable any reimbursement owed to you to be paid. We regret that no refunds will be made after the date that is one year (12 calendar months) after the date of the relevant Conference.

Travel arrangements and visas

Participants are responsible for making their own travel arrangements. It is recommended that you check your visa requirements with your local embassy or consulate. We are unable to dispatch visa invitation letters to support your visa application prior to receipt of your registration form and full payment of registration fees.

Please apply for your visa in good time.

with the hotel and entering into an agreement with the hotel regarding credit card guarantees, cancellation terms and conditions, and room rates (should these differ from the special IBA rate). The IBA cannot accept responsibility for hotel accommodation disputes between a delegate and the hotel.

Unauthorised accommodation agents

It has been brought to our attention that there are multiple companies contacting past attendees, claiming to represent the IBA, offering 'assistance' with registration and hotel bookings. They are operating by cold-calling and spamming companies whose names have appeared on previous List of Participants, Programmes and Sponsorship recognition. Please ignore any communication that does not come directly from the IBA.

International Bar Association

the global voice of the legal profession

The International Bar Association (IBA), established in 1947, is the world's leading organisation of international legal practitioners, bar associations, law firms and law societies.

The IBA influences the development of international law reform and shapes the future of the legal profession throughout the world. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and more than 190 bar associations and law societies spanning over 170 countries.

Inspired by the vision of the United Nations, the IBA was founded in the same spirit, just before the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was proclaimed in 1948.

The IBA covers all practice areas and professional interests, providing members with access to leading experts and up-to date information, enabling them to better represent their clients' interests.

Through its various committees, fora and task forces, the IBA facilitates the exchange of information and views among its members as to laws, practices and professional responsibilities relating to the practice of law around the globe.

International Commerce and Distribution Committee overview

As part of its activities, the International Commerce and Distribution Committee examines legal issues fundamental to the growth and development of international commerce.

The Committee deals extensively with issues relating to international sales contracts, agency and distribution, cross-border acquisitions, warranties and financing of international sales.

In addition to reviewing the current legal position in different countries from a comparative perspective, the committee also examines international and supranational instruments, such as the United Nations Convention on the International Sale of Goods, Incoterms and the Uniform Customs and Practice for Documentary Credits, as well as, for example, relevant instruments of the European Union and Mercosur.

The Committee also focuses on law reform in the fields of law within its scope, and since 1997 has monitored and offered suggestions in connection with the proposed Hague Convention on International Jurisdiction and the Effects of Foreign judgments in Civil and Commercial Matters.
